As new media interactive designers , we are interested in using media technology to incorporate to the educational system. We became interested in this topic after we experienced instructional design We would like our audience to interact with this piece by sharing their ideas, issues and subjects that they needs more help. We would like them to feel practical, beneficial and exploratory. We think in the next few weeks, we would like to use the class time and homework opportunities to find out how to align these components to our concept technically.
